

Apprenticeship: The “Other” Work-Based Learning

Presenter: Gabby Nunley, Apprenticeship and Work Based Learning Coordinator, ODE

Attend this session to learn more about the apprenticeship system in Oregon! You will walk away with information on how to connect young people to pre-apprenticeship and apprenticeship programs, awareness of the difference between union and non-union programs, and ways to promote apprenticeships in the trades to your parent and student audiences.

Gabby Nunley, Apprenticeship and Work Based Learning Coordinator, Oregon Department of Education

Gabby Nunley is one of the newest members of the Secondary and Post-Secondary Student Transitions team for the Oregon Department of Education’s Office of Learning. Before joining the team in July 2015, Gabby was a manufacturing liaison for Clackamas County aligning secondary and post-secondary CTE manufacturing programs through articulation, developing business and education partnerships, and enhancing programs to meet industry standards. Her Master’s in Social Work developed the platform for communication and project planning processes across multiple systems like workforce, education, business and industry, government, mental health, and human services. As an AmeriCorps*VISTA alum, Gabby believes strongly in civic service and work based learning opportunities which support young people get prepared for careers and college.
